

Women Gather in Cincinnati at the Ohio Women's Conference May 18, 2011

This Statewide conference focuses on professional development, community involvement, premium networking, entrepreneurship and women's health and wellness.

CINCINNATI—April 28, 2011 - The Ohio Women's Conference allows women a tremendous opportunity to grow, develop, learn and make lasting professional relationships with peers. The conference is a statewide forum for the Women in Illinois to build and develop each other professionally and individually.

This year's theme is “Live well, Learn more, Inspire others”. We all know the importance of learning and the power of inspiration. This unique conference includes distinctive speakers, instructive sessions and exciting networking opportunities.

The conference will have three tracks: Entrepreneurship, Professional Development, and Community Enrichment. There will be 12 concurrent sessions that will fall under these tracks, as well as over 25 exceptional presenters.

Registration is ongoing at: <http://www.ohwomensconference.com/products-page>

Presenting Speakers include:

Donna Brazile, Brazile & Associates LLC

Amy Argus, UC Health/University Hospital

Barbara A. Johnson, Miami Valley Hospital

Beth Robeson, Robeson Marketing & Design, LLC

Chandra Brown, Beckfield College

Cindy Lowe Durkin, GE Aviation

Colette Burnette, Central State University

Deb Schroeder, Toyota Engineering & Manufacturing North America

Elizabeth Heller Allen, Huntington

Jodi Geiser, Ernst & Young LLP

Julia Poston, Ernst & Young LLP

Dr. Kellie Flood-Shaffer, University of Cincinnati College of Medicine

Kimberly Amrine, Frost Brown Todd LLC

Laura Morrow, Toyota Motor Engineering & Manufacturing North America, Inc.

Lisa Smith, Premier Health Partners

LisaMarie Luccioni, University of Cincinnati

Mary J. Healy, Dinsmore & Shohl LLP

Michelle C. Vanderlip, Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland

Shantel Thomas, A Sound Mind Counseling

Susan Blasik-Miller, Freund, Freeze & Arnold

Terri Thrasher, Cincinnati Children's Hospital

Toni Perry Gillispie, AT&T Ohio

Contact: National Diversity Council

Michael Zamora

michael.zamora@nationaldiversitycouncil.org