

Elite Business Women Honored at the 4th Annual Women's Conference

Glass Ceiling Awardees of 2013's Ohio Women's Conference

Approximately 300 professionals were in attendance at the 4th Annual Women's Conference on May 30th at the University of Cincinnati. The conference theme, "When Women Succeed, America Succeeds," focused on challenges women in leadership positions have overcome and opportunities they've gained in order to become successful.

"The 4th Annual Ohio Women's Conference provided women an opportunity to grow, develop, learn, and network with women in executive positions," Dennis Kennedy said, Founder and CEO of the National Diversity Council. "At this conference, the attendees learned essential skills necessary to excel in their respective organizations."

During the first half of the conference, the participants attended a series of panel discussions which focused on topics that were tailor made to help women achieve greatness within their organizations.

A few of the topics were: "Shattering the Glass Ceiling: Strategies to Redefine Power and Lead with Retention";

"Take Control of your Financial Future: A Financial Seminar for Women"; "Work-Life Balance in the 21st Century"; and "Career Path in 2013: Defining Success on your Own Terms."

Following the panel discussions, 23 executive women were honored with the "Glass Ceiling Award" for their leadership excellence and record of career accomplishments. During the awards luncheon, Heather Whaling, President of Geben Communications, delivered the keynote speech. Her insight and professional experience greatly accentuated this year's conference.

The Ohio Diversity Council would like to thank the sponsors, speakers, panelists and attendees for helping make the 4th Annual Ohio Women's Conference a rousing success.
